PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Present | Aug. 2020

Senior Analytics Engineer
Green Mountain Technology — Remote full-time

- Architected an event-driven webhook pipeline with rigorous data quality checks to validate payload completeness and enforce strict alignment with partner specifications.
- Engineered an end-to-end rate shop verification pipeline, transforming nested JSON into high-performance STAR schemas to map complex partner data to internal models.
- Orchestrate production data pipelines using Dagster, integrating diverse operational sources to drive enterprise analytics and accurate revenue forecasting.
- Championed enterprise adoption of dlt and dbt, maintaining ingestion frameworks for complex datasets including carrier service guides and contract pricing.
- Developed a specialized SQL schema and R Shiny CRUD app to standardize and validate strategic pricing parameters, enabling account teams to maintain critical analytics inputs.
- Core maintainer of the enterprise data warehouse and BI extracts, partnering across teams to ensure high availability and reliability for Tableau-driven insights.
- Automated EIA fuel price ingestion workflows, dynamically calculating fuel surcharge percentages based on carrier indexes and zip-to-zone mappings.
- Conducted strategic network optimizations and RFP evaluations for Fortune 100 clients, leveraging SQL and R to model large-scale parcel shipping data.
- Built automated reporting pipelines and parameterized models using R/RMarkdown, Shiny, and Tableau to deliver weekly and monthly executive-level insights.
- Led the operations-wide rollout of Git/GitLab, authoring technical documentation and conducting live training to standardize version control.
- Organized weekly engineering alignment summits to drive methodology standardization and cross-team knowledge sharing.
